House Approves Farm Bill

Voice Vote On Measure Sends It To Senate

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A compromise farm bill calling for flexible price supports for major crops and arming President Eisenhower with other powers to attack the problem of mountainous surpluses was passed by the House today and sent to the Senate.

Action was on a voice vote. The President didn't get all the authority he wanted to administer price supports on a sliding scale ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

But the House voted 228-170 on a rollcall to allow the Agriculture Department to adjust its price props on a range extending from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity.

This was an administration-backed compromise introduced at the last minute by Rep. Harrison (R-Neb.). It effectively blocked a strong drive by farm state legislators to continue supports at 90 per cent of parity through 1955.

Parity Legal Standard

Parity is a legal standard for fixing prices on the six basic crops, wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco. Adjustments are made in relation to the cost of basic things the farmer needs to produce his crops.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told reporters the House action was "encouraging" because it was a move toward full flexibility in the government's price support program. He spoke in the absence of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is speaking in Port Isabel, Tex., tomorrow.

Outstanding provisions in the bill include:

1. A 2½ billion dollar "set aside" of surpluses from the Commodity Credit Corporation's stocks for relief, foreign aid, stockpile and other purposes. It would also cut down marketable surpluses, reducing the "dampening" effect of CCC stocks hanging over the market.

2. An incentive payment plan for wool growers, permitting the secretary of agriculture to support wool prices as high as 110 per cent of parity to encourage production closer to the level of domestic requirements.

Supports Big Issue

3. A hike in price supports for dairy products from the present floor of 75 per cent of parity to 80 per cent. The increase would be effective until next April 1. This section of the bill also contains authority for direct subsidies to butter producers and processors to encourage disposal of dairy surpluses.

But the big issue in the legislation was flexible price supports. The administration argues that a sliding scale would tend to slow down the accumulation of surpluses—6½ billion dollars worth—which are now bulging out of government warehouses.

The idea would be to lower supports in times of plenty to discourage production and raise them when things are scarce to encourage production.

Steals Ski-Lift

LUINO, Italy, July 2 (AP)—Stefano Salvi, 18, was arrested today on a charge of stealing a ski-lift.

Police said a six-month investigation showed he made several trips into nearby Switzerland and brought back an entire lift, bit by bit, including its engine and 400 meters of steel cable.

Five Armed Men Rob Bank In Chicago Of $50,000

CHICAGO, July 2 (AP)—Five robbers, armed to the teeth and operating at high speed, robbed the Ashland State Bank of nearly $50,000 in a bold, two-minute daylight holdup today.

They escaped through an alley behind the bank in a stolen Cadillac while two alerted police squads raced to the wrong location because of a mixup over the address. It was Chicago's first bank robbery in more than five years.

The empty getaway car later was found abandoned only a few blocks away.

Four of the robbers, carrying pistols, dashed into the bank on the run at 9:07 a.m., just a few minutes after the opening. A fifth man, holding a machine gun, stood guard at the side door leading to the bank parking lot. Police believe a sixth man remained at the wheel of the car.

The four invaders shouted hurried commands to the 10 bank employees and one customer to lie down on the floor. Then they vaulted over counters and into the

Jet Crash Kills Four

A jet fighter plane returning from investigation of unidentified aircraft near Utica, N. Y., crashed in flames on a crossroads hamlet, killing four civilians. Two houses and an automobile were destroyed. The plane's engine can be seen on the highway while the tail section is at the right. One of the houses burns in the background. The two crewmen bailed out of the plane when the cockpit caught fire.

Fiesta Reigns As Guatemalans Celebrate Peace

GUATEMALA, July 2 (AP)—Church bells clanged, firecrackers popped and Guatemalans in fiesta mood draped the streets of their capital with blue and white pennants today to celebrate the end of Guatemala's two-week-old civil war.

Peace came just before dawn at negotiations in neighboring El Salvador. Two rival anti-Communist colonels, rebel leader Carlos Castillo Armas and Elfigo H. Monzon, signed a peace pact establishing a new five-man ruling junta pledged to stamp out communism.

Monzon emerged as No. 1 man in the new regime, but the compromise settlement assured him only a 15-day term. By then, the junta must choose a "permanent" chief. It includes Monzon, Castillo, a Castillo aide and two members of the Monzon junta which preceded the new regime.

There was speculation here Castillo hopes to win a majority to his side in the next two weeks.

Festive crowds blanketed the streets of the Guatemalan capital with flowers, and waited expectantly for the arrival of the new junta leaders from El Salvador.

The new government announced 400 Communists—but no leaders—had been captured in a continuing crackdown on peasant uprisings, some within 30 miles of the capital. Police authorities said they had uncovered a complete list of the Guatemalan Communist movement which would help quell the agrarian revolt quickly. Ousted pro-Communist President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman had channeled arms into the hands of the Communist-led Landless Farmers Union shortly before his downfall to build guerrilla defense forces.

The peace pact was signed at 4:45 a.m. in the ceremonial hall of El Salvador's presidential palace before ambassadors and representatives of a dozen countries.

tellers' cages, scooping all bills in sight into canvas bags. Eugene F. Cronin, bank president, was in the center of the bank when the gunmen appeared, shouting "This is a stickup. This is serious." They forced him to stretch out on the floor.

The invaders all wore dark hoods or black stockings with eye slits. Mrs. Vern Anderson, 48, working in one of the cages, dropped with both hands on the foot holdup alarm. She lifted the alarm lever, which flashes a warning to a central headquarters, which in turn notifies police.

A gunman scooping up money in her cage did not interfere or comment, except to tell her to keep her head down.

Mrs. Donna Rust, 34, a bookkeeper, slid behind a desk taking a telephone with her. She dialed police and whispered what was happening.

No shots were fired and no one was injured in the two minutes the robbers were in the bank.

Whooping Crane's Secret Nest May Soon Be Located

OTTAWA, July 2 (AP)—The whooping crane's greatest secret—its nesting place—may soon be out. Canada's Resources Department today announced that six of these almost extinct birds, including young, were sighted from a helicopter in Wood Buffalo National Park, astride the boundary of northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

World population of the whooping crane is only 24, and wildlife experts have been trying for years to find their nesting grounds.

Observers know they winter in Texas and journey to the Canadian North for summer nesting, but even when they were followed by planes, the cranes got away when reaching the north.

Election Brings Martial Law

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 2 (AP)—Martial law was ordered today in five counties for Oklahoma's primary election next Tuesday. Gov. Johnston Murray's order was the aftermath of a vote-selling scandal that has resulted in charges against six persons.

The order will place National Guardsmen in charge of voting in Pittsburg, Le Flore, Sequoyah, Cherokee and Adair counties. Murray, commander-in-chief of the guard, said other counties may be placed under martial law before Tuesday.

Murray's wife, Mrs. Willie E. Murray, is one of 16 Democratic candidates for governor. By law Murray may not succeed himself.

In taking the drastic action, Murray described voting conditions in those counties as "appalling." He said he suspects more counties of irregularities and that he has unverified information "that is simply terrific."

BALTIMORE, July 2 (AP)—Mahoney forces mustered high-powered legal attacks in Talbot and Queen Annes counties today in their back-to-the-wall efforts to upset Dr. H. C. Byrd's apparent victory last Monday in the Democratic primary for governor of Maryland.

Lawyers for George P. Mahoney expressed renewed optimism of their prospects, even though Byrd clung to his lead with the official vote canvass completed in all but Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties and Baltimore City's six legislative districts.

"I think Mahoney's going to win the nomination," said Francis B. Burch, the attorney who represented Mahoney in yesterday's canvass in Talbot.

He said he had "good reason" to believe Byrd's victory in that county would be reversed, but refused to elaborate.

In Queen Annes the board of election supervisors set a hearing for Saturday (11 a.m., EDT) on a Mahoney attempt to invalidate all

22 Believed Dead In Earthquake In Philippines

MANILA, Saturday, July 3 (AP)—An earthquake of great violence spread terror and destruction through the Central Philippines yesterday and left possibly 22 dead in the ruins of homes and buildings. Scores were injured.

Sorsogon, a provincial capital of 26,000 about 230 miles southeast of Manila, was in ruins. The head of the constabulary there said "20 persons are believed dead" and "property damage is enormous."

Huge cracks opened in the chain of dead volcanoes that gird Sorsogon. Tremendous landslides tumbled down their slopes in the valleys of the rich agricultural region.

The complete picture of devastation was emerging slowly from the district because of knocked out communications.

Legaspi, a city of 78,000 nearly 20 miles north of Sorsogon, also was hit and two workmen were knocked from a scaffolding and killed, Philippine News Service said. But the extent of damage there was not known.

The quake appeared to center in the Sorsogon area of southeast Luzon and was felt with varying degrees of intensity on Panay, Masbate, Samar and Leyte islands as much as 200 miles to the south.

The towering steeple on the Catholic cathedral came crashing down and crushed to death two school children fleeing for safety.

When the first great quake hit shortly before 11 a.m., residents fled in panic from homes, office buildings and schools and cowered in the open as three lighter shocks hit in rapid succession.

Philippine News Service said bodies of 10 victims had been recovered and rescue crews were searching debris for more. Hospitals treated 44 injured but were handicapped by a shortage of blood plasma.

As the struggle for the gubernatorial nomination raged, Philip H. Dorsey Jr. said he would file a petition for a recount in Baltimore's Fourth District in his fight with C. Ferdinand Sybert for the attorney general spot. Dorsey ran on the Mahoney ticket, Sybert with Byrd.

Dorsey, leading Sybert 88,666 to 80,746 in popular votes, trailed by a 74-68 margin in unit votes. He lost the Fourth District's seven unit votes by only 40 popular votes in the unofficial count. He said the recount would be requested if Sybert's 40-vote margin stood up through the canvass.

E. Brooke Lee, campaign manager for Byrd, said irregularities in Queen Annes County complained of by the Mahoney forces were not irregularities at all.

He charged the appearance of Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney, before the election supervisors in Queen Annes was all part of a Republican plot.

Lee has repeatedly charged the Republicans would like to see Mahoney nominated because they figure it would be easier for Gov. McKeldin to beat Mahoney than Byrd in November.

Nixon Again Blasts Demos Policy Abroad

Says Under Truman Administration Was Weak, Unprincipled

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Vice President Nixon charged today that the Truman administration left behind a foreign "policy of weakness, a policy of surrender of principle at the conference table."

He said that Democratic planners "didn't understand . . . what the Communist threat really was" and "failed to recognize that it was a world trap."

The Eisenhower administration, he said, has "adopted a policy of strength—one in which our people go to the conference table . . . determined not to surrender our principles but to make them prevail."

The vice president made his second blast at Democratic planning within a week during a television interview with Rep. Keating (R-NY).

The program was filmed here Monday afternoon, and the text was released today without change, despite a furore over Nixon's first attack on Democratic policies.

Democratic congressmen have strongly criticized him for charging at Milwaukee Saturday night that the Truman-Acheson policies lost China and led to the present Asian crisis. Democrats said a bipartisan foreign policy would be endangered if Eisenhower administration men continue to make such charges.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that he had neither read nor cleared the Milwaukee speech. But he said he has high regard for his vice president who is kept in close contact with everything that is going on. He said he assumed Nixon was speaking on his own responsibility.

Nixon told Keating also:

1. That the recent Eisenhower-Churchill conference "inevitably can't help but bring better understanding between our nations and it cannot help in the long run but mean we will be able to present a more united front to our common enemy."

2. "You can break the Communist conspiracy in the United States," if Congress approved the President's proposal to legalize wire-tapped evidence and to grant immunity to persons who might otherwise withhold evidence on Communist activities on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

The vice president named no names in his new charge that the "previous administration" lost 600 million people to communism.

Truman Improves, Rests Comfortably

KANSAS CITY, July 2 (AP)—Harry S. Truman's condition was reported generally improved today, with his temperature, pulse and respiration normal.

Attending physicians reported through a hospital spokesman that his intestinal inflammation is quite apparent, however, but the aggravation has subsided appreciably.

He was reported resting comfortably, with no nausea.

Jet Plane Crash Kills 4 Civilians

Crew Bailed Out, Craft Hits Houses, Auto, Catches Fire

UTICA, N.Y., July 12 (AP)—A jet fighter plane returning from a quick "scramble" to investigate an unidentified plane crashed in flames in a crossroads hamlet today and killed four persons on the ground.

Two houses and an automobile were destroyed. The two Air Force lieutenants in the F94C Starfire, which carried 48 high-powered 2½-inch rockets, bailed out before it plunged, into tiny Walesville, 11 miles southwest of Utica, about 12:30 p.m. The two, who escaped injury, were Lt. William E. Atkins, 24, of Dutton, Va., the pilot, and Lt. Henry F. Coudon, 26, of Perryville, Md., radar observer.

Family In Auto

Killed were Stanley Phillips, 38, his wife, Florence, 32, and their son, Gary, 11, all of neighboring Hecla, and Mrs. Doris Monroe, 28, occupant of one of the houses that was destroyed. The Phillips family was in the automobile. Mrs. Monroe was in her home preparing lunch for her four children when the plane crashed.

The plane was attached to the 27th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at nearby Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome. It was one of two jets ordered up to check on an unknown plane that had entered the area guarded by the air defense operation.

A Griffiss spokesman said the pilots were satisfied that the plane was "friendly" and were headed back to the base when fire broke out in the cockpit of the ill-fated craft.

The air base said the pilot and radar observer stuck to the plane until the "last minute." A spokesman quoted Atkins as reporting that he ordered Coudon to bail out, then jumped himself from about 7,000 feet.

Fuel Exploded

Griffiss said that fuel in the burning plane apparently exploded when the jet crashed. A spokesman said it had not been determined whether an explosion occurred while the jet was in the air.

Earlier, an Air Force officer had said there "must have been an explosion."

The unoccupied plane struck a large elm tree back of the Walesville general store. A section of the burning craft, probably a wing, struck the car carrying the Phillips family home, presumably from the Rome State School, where both husband and wife were employed as occupational instructors.

The sedan burst into flames, ploughed into the home of Mrs. Mary Peck, 79, and set the colonial frame structure afire. Mrs. Peck fled to safety.

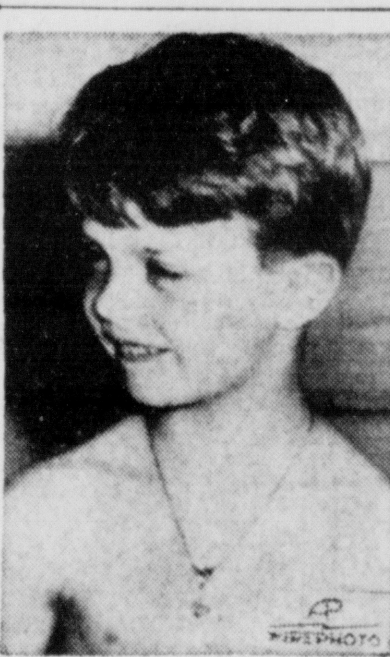

Meanwhile, the body of the plane plunged through the roof of the one-story Monroe home and fire quickly destroyed it.

Mrs. Monroe was preparing lunch while her children played outside. Her husband, Lloyd, was at work in a foundry.

One of the children, Betty Lou, 1, suffered a severe laceration of the leg, presumably from being struck by a part of the shattered plane, bits of which were scattered all over the community.

The three other Monroe children escaped without a scratch. They were Kenneth, 9, Buddy, 6, and Nora May, 3.

The air base public information office said that a board of inquiry had begun an investigation.

Senate To Study Social Security Plan For Aged

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A proposal that aged persons not eligible for old age pensions be permitted to qualify by paying a minimum social security tax was presented today to the Senate Finance Committee.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), presiding temporarily over hearings on the House-approved bill boosting the coverage and benefits of social security, called the idea "humanitarian" and worthy of consideration.

The plan came from Joseph A. Schaefer, Philadelphia certified public accountant. The provision requiring six quarter-years of covered employment should be waived, he said, to relieve many persons of hardship and suffering.

Those who worked only part of the required time, and then had to drop out because of illness, infirmity or inability to get a job, should be allowed to pay up the tax for the remaining quarters, Schaefer testified. They could then receive pensions.

Those who never had a credit on social security records, he said, should be allowed to enter the system as if they were self-employed. They would file an account with the government, paying six quarters of tax at the 3 per cent rate, but "would not be required to work or to be self-employed for the required time."

"These forgotten old people are the very ones who need financial assistance from social security," Schaefer testified.

He said the Old Ladies' Home of Philadelphia, which had sheltered aged women for 78 years, was forced to close last January because of the burden on the community, in the absence of assurance that the women could get public aid or social security.

Earlier Dr. Francis E. Townsend attacked the bill, which would add 10 million persons to social security rolls and increase the benefits of current pensioners by an average of $6 a month, as merely perpetuating a "monstrous" injustice on the aged.

Syngman Rhee May Soon Pay Visit To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee was understood today to be considering an invitation to visit Washington late this month for conferences with President Eisenhower and other leaders on the future of his divided country.

Whether the 79-year-old Rhee will make the trip may depend to a large extent on the speedy resolution of his political difficulties at home. South Korea's newly elected National Assembly refused today to confirm Rhee's new Cabinet.

News reports indicated that the difficulties arose out of domestic political opposition to some of his Cabinet choices and that foreign policy was not an issue.

An invitation for Rhee to make an official visit to Washington was dispatched after the breakdown of the Geneva conference. At Geneva, South Korea, the United States and other U.N. nations which blocked Red conquest of the whole peninsula during the Korean War nego-

Final Vote Is 63-9 In Favor Of Huge Bill

Income Tax Grant Is Again Beaten, Goes To Committee

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—A giant bill overhauling the nation's tax structure was passed by the Senate today, 63-9, in pretty much the form that President Eisenhower asked.

Just before passage, the Senate rejected for the fourth time in three days a move to grant a general income tax cut. The bill as it stands provides about $1,300,000,000 in selected tax cuts for corporations and individuals, but changes no major rates.

Relief Turned Down

The fourth and final turnaround of general tax relief was a 62-15 vote against a motion by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) to instruct the Finance Committee to rewrite the bill so as to give a general tax cut to persons in the middle and low income brackets.

Douglas argued that the bill benefited corporations and rich individuals, but did little for others. The majority heeded the argument that it was a balanced bill that corrected many inequities in present law.

The huge measure, now swollen by amendments to a total of more than 1,300 pages, represents the first sweeping revision of general tax legislation in 78 years. Eisenhower has called it essential to the program of his administration.

A House and Senate Conference Committee must now get together and adjust differences between the versions passed by the two branches. There are numerous differences, but most of them are technical.

The Senate named Sens. Milliken (R-Colo.), Williams (R-Del.), George (D-Ga.) and Byrd (D-Va.) as its representatives in the adjusting process. Milliken shepherded the bill through the Senate. One of the big differences between the House and Senate is how to treat income received from dividends.

The House bill would consider the first $50 of dividend income tax free, and permit a taxpayer to deduct from his tax bill 5 per cent of his dividend income above $50 in the first year of the legislation. In subsequent years the first $100 would be tax exempt and the taxpayer could deduct 10 per cent of dividend income above $100.

The Senate, in a day and night of maneuvering on Thursday, knocked out all of this except the $50 exemption, which would be permanent.

Would Encourage Buying
The Republican theory advanced by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was that the House-type plan would encourage the buying of dividend-producing stocks, and thereby produce needed capital for job-creating business expansion.

Democratic critics scoffed at that. They contended it was "a rich man's bill."

Major features of the Senate bill included:

- A faster method of writing off depreciation costs on a plant or piece of equipment, the idea being to speed plant expansion and improvement.

Extension until next April 1 of the 52 per cent rate of tax on corporate income. Without this the rate would drop to 47 per cent and the government would lose $1,200,000,000 in revenue.

Mahoney Forces Muster Effort To Upset Byrd Victory

BALTIMORE, July 2 (AP)—Mahoney forces mustered high-powered legal attacks in Talbot and Queen Annes counties today in their back-to-the-wall efforts to upset Dr. H. C. Byrd's apparent victory last Monday in the Democratic primary for governor of Maryland.

Lawyers for George P. Mahoney expressed renewed optimism of their prospects, even though Byrd clung to his lead with the official vote canvass completed in all but Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties and Baltimore City's six legislative districts.

"I think Mahoney's going to win the nomination," said Francis B. Burch, the attorney who represented Mahoney in yesterday's canvass in Talbot.

He said he had "good reason" to believe Byrd's victory in that county would be reversed, but refused to elaborate.

In Queen Annes the board of election supervisors set a hearing for Saturday (11 a.m., EDT) on a Mahoney attempt to invalidate all ballots from an entire precinct, which would nullify Byrd's margin there.

Victory in both Talbot and Queen Annes would give Mahoney the nomination. Talbot has four unit votes and Queen Annes three in the nominating convention, where delegates must vote for the candidate who polled the most popular votes in their counties.

In the state-wide canvass Byrd maintained his 80-72 lead in unit votes. The popular vote stood at 163,745 for Byrd and 161,078 for Mahoney—a margin of 2,667 for Byrd. In the event of a tie in unit votes, the nomination goes to the candidate with the lead in popular votes.

Byrd headquarters spokesmen declared there was no doubt their candidate would survive the tense post-election legal maneuvering.

The seriousness with which they viewed the situation was indicated, by their request to former Atty. Gen. William C. Walsh of Cumberland to represent them at the Queen Annes hearing.

As the struggle for the gubernatorial nomination raged, Philip H. Dorsey Jr. said he would file a petition for a recount in Baltimore's Fourth District in his fight with C. Ferdinand Sybert for the attorney general spot. Dorsey ran on the Mahoney ticket, Sybert with Byrd.

Dorsey, leading Sybert 88,666 to 80,746 in popular votes, trailed by a 74-68 margin in unit votes. He lost the Fourth District's seven unit votes by only 40 popular votes in the unofficial count. He said the recount would be requested if Sybert's 40-vote margin stood up through the canvass.

E. Brooke Lee, campaign manager for Byrd, said irregularities in Queen Annes County complained of by the Mahoney forces were not irregularities at all.

He charged the appearance of Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney, before the election supervisors in Queen Annes was all part of a Republican plot.

French Leave Rich Delta Land To Reds

Expect 'Human Sea' Vietnam Attack

Editor's note: In this article Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent who has covered the fighting in Indo-China for two years, describes some of the economic advantages which would accrue to the Vietnamese from a French defeat in the Red River Delta. Allen wrote from neighboring Singapore, free from censorship.

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE, July 2 (P)—One of the richest prizes in all of Asia is going to fall into the hands of the Communist-led Vietnamese once they take all of Indochina's Red River Delta—and it looks like they will.

Despite nearly eight years of savage war the delta lands have been producing nearly one million tons of rice annually. Tens of thousands of acres more of rice-growing areas could go into production once the fighting is stopped.

Along with this ricebowl, a complete sweep of the delta also would give the Vietnamese access to big textile manufacturing centers and cement plants at Haiphong.

The Vietnam, too, would gain a vast reservoir of manpower to boost their fighting forces. Seven million Vietnamese, most of them long pro-Vietminh, live in the delta.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department said it has called on the French government to explain the delta withdrawal. The United States is seeking knowledge of French "intentions" about the delta, for whose defense the United States contributed millions of dollars in war equipment.

The Vietminh long have wanted the delta. With it they not only would solve many of their basic food problems but could soon have rice surpluses for export that could be used to bring the rebels within sight of victory.

At the moment, the Vietminh do not have far to go to occupy all of the delta. They roughly have from 60 to 75 per cent of it now as the French Union forces continue to pull out of the southern and southeastern sectors—the heart of the rice-producing lands.

Hourly the threat of a great Vietminh "human sea" attack grows as the French brace themselves inside the Hanoi-Haiphong enclave.

It is along the 64-mile stretch of highway and paralleling railway between Hanoi and the seaport of Haiphong the French say they will make their last ditch stand.

But that may be just long enough to evacuate their less than 100 battalions of troops to beachheads at Haiphong and the Do Son peninsula, 12 miles southeast of Haiphong.

When the Vietminh will hit the French Union forces with upwards of 200,000 men, including eight regular divisions and 100,000 troops long inside the delta, is anybody's guess. Dispatches from Hanoi—censored and subject to delay—say the French have already moved out of five fortified cities and 2,000 square miles of rice rich land.

District Milk Prices To Rise

WASHINGTON, July 2 (P)—Retail milk prices in the Washington area are expected to rise half a cent a quart July 16.

Dairies have been notified of a producer price increase on that date. This will push prices back to the level of May 1 when the Virginia Milk Commission ordered a half cent cut in minimum prices.

The new increase comes with-out action of the commission. The Virginia price fixing agency yesterday rejected a petition of several Washington area dairies and producers to raise minimum price levels.

Customarily, producers and dairies in this area sell milk at the minimum prices fixed by the commission. It does not fix maximum prices, however, and milk can be sold above the minimum prices.

This will be the first time in seven years that prices have gone above the Virginia Milk Commission minimums, a spokesman for the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Assn. reported.

The producer group has advised the dairies it supplies that wholesale prices are going up 23 cents a hundredweight July 16. That is the same amount by which wholesale prices were lowered May 1 when retail prices took a seasonal half-cent a quart drop.

Liable To $50 Fine

BALTIMORE, July 2 (P)—Police today reminded residents of the city they are liable to a fine of $50 for each firecracker exploded in honor of the Fourth of July.

Beat patrolmen gave neighborhood stores a friendly reminder that storekeepers are subject to fines of up to $200 for each sale of fireworks.

Banker Reveals Part He Played In FHA Deals

WASHINGTON, July 2 (P)—A Gary, Ind., investment banker today told of taking part in a number of profitable real estate deals involving government-insured mortgage loans but denied "fronting" for a federal housing in a $372,000 apartment house project.

The banker, Charles H. Glueck, told Senate investigators he was "very well acquainted" with the late R. Earl Peters, FHA director for Indiana who, he said, lived in a penthouse apartment next to his own.

Glueck denied, however, that he gave Peters part of the land on which the Florida Apartments were built in Fort Wayne, or helped Peters conceal a financial interest in the project.

Testimony at the Senate Banking Committee's investigation of building loan scandals brought out that Peters, who died early in 1952, was Democratic state chairman in 1932 and 1933, and was disciplined for taking part in the apartment house development.

Glueck acknowledged under questioning that he gave an all-expenses paid trip to Florida in December 1949, to James Swan, an FHA appraiser, and his wife. Asked by Chairman Capehart ("R-Ind") if he thought it was all right to finance such a trip, Glueck said:

"I didn't think that it was wrong. I know now that it was wrong."

The witness told of one deal in which he said his firm, Mid-City Investment Co., bought about 46 acres for $50,000 late in 1948 and sold it a few months later in two separate parcels for $450,000.

Glueck said two apartment projects, the Major and Tri-City Village, were built on these tracts with FHA-insured mortgages, but he denied that sale of the land was contingent on Glueck getting FHA commitments to insure the loans.

El Paso, Tex., received that name from the Spanish for "The Pass," because it is the lowest natural pass in that region.

Deputy Sheriff Is Found Guilty Of Fraud Attempt

HAGERSTOWN, July 2 (P)—Deputy Sheriff Charles F. Crowl, who is also an automobile dealer at Boonsboro, was fined $1,000 today for trying to cheat the Washington County Commissioners on a bill for a $32.16 tire.

The case of the 55-year-old deputy cleaned up a batch of six indictments returned after a grand jury investigation of sheriff's office operations.

Crowl, only defendant convicted, was charged with false pretense in billing the commissioners for a tire he said was delivered to Michael Farrie, another deputy.

The state contended the tire was not delivered and the bill actually was a device used by Crowl to recover part of a $50 debt Farrie owed him on purchase of an automobile dating back two years.

The first balloons were launched in 1783.

Two Die In Auto Mishaps As Holiday Traffic Begins

[By The Associated Press]

Two persons were killed in Maryland traffic accidents Thursday night and Friday before the start of the heavy Fourth of July weekend travel.

The nationwide tabulation of deaths compiled by the Associated Press did not start until 6 p.m. Friday.

James J. Young, 20, of Hagerstown, was killed Thursday night when his car failed to make a curve on Conococheague Road six miles west of Hagerstown, went down an embankment and hit a tree. Three other young people in the car were not seriously hurt.

Joseph E. Shipley, 51-year-old driver of a dry cleaning truck, was killed in Baltimore Friday when his vehicle collided with a car and overturned.

Railroad, air lines and bus companies expected record traffic over the long holiday period.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad put extra cars on all its trains and had extra equipment standing by for Monday, when the rush is expected to reach its peak.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has plans to run 21 extra trains Friday, five Saturday and 19 on Monday.

Airline offices said it was almost impossible to get reservations on flights scheduled over the week-end, from Friday through next Monday.

Frostburg To See Fireworks Display At Beall High Monday

FROSTBURG — Arrangements have been completed for the annual fireworks display here Monday night.

The display will be presented at Beall High School stadium, immediately after dark. Arion Band is planning a concert in front of the stands preceding the fireworks and Mayor Perry Myers will deliver a brief address of welcome.

At a recent meeting of Faraday Post No. 24, American Legion, it was reported by Melvin Eichhorn, chairman of the sponsoring committee that advance collections to finance the display are not up to expectations. However, in view of general conditions, he said, the result is encouraging and all contributions are appreciated.

He also reported that a list of contributors is being prepared for publication.

In the original list of veterans organizations which are sponsors of this fireworks display and program, the committee failed to include the name of Cecil Randolph Post No. 271, American Legion. This organization is also a participant in backing the display, Eichhorn said.

Arrangements have been made at the Beall High School grounds and stadium for parking of several hundred autos. Frostburg police, assisted by Auxiliary police will be in charge.

Kellar Given 18-Year Term

BALTIMORE, July 1 (AP)—Kenneth C. Kellar, 24, formerly of Parsons, W. Va., was sentenced to 18 years in the Maryland penitentiary today for the second-degree murder of his wife.

The penalty was the maximum for second-degree slaying. The victim, a 23-year-old mother of two children, was shot in the head last January.

Kellar claimed at his jury trial several months ago the shooting was accidental. He said he was attempting to stroke his wife's hair in an embrace and the pistol he held in his hand at the time was accidentally discharged.

The Supreme Bench has denied a motion for a new trial.

Romney To Get Mail Delivery After Houses Are Numbered

ROMNEY — The Post Office Department has informed Postmaster C. J. Powell, that it has approved free mail delivery in Romney.

Powell announced that it will be necessary for local patrons to have all houses and streets numbered and named property before delivery service can be established.

In the survey made in the early spring to establish the town's reaction to a prospective house delivery, twice as many people voted for as against it.

It was pointed out at that time that if the action was favorable and the project approved, the people would have one mail delivery per day and none on Sundays and holidays. Each person may have either a box or delivery but not both.

No mail will be given out at the window at the post office. Powell said, except general delivery for out-of-town visitors or transients. Business establishments can have a box for business mail and also home delivery for personal mail, if desired. Mail arriving on the afternoon truck will be held over to the next day for delivery.

The Town Council is working on a master plan for numbering houses. The delivery will cover almost all of the town to the corporation limits.

No definite date has been set for the inauguration of the new delivery service.

The Fourth of July is a great day in the United States of America. On this date in 1776 the Thirteen Original Colonies declared their independence from the British government in which they had lost confidence. They assumed their right, as they themselves expressed it in their Declaration of Independence, to live under "the laws of nature and of nature's God."

This freedom has carried down to this very day. And that is why happy little faces, such as those in this picture, can look hopefully out from the shadow of the Stars and Stripes to safety, and justice, and law and order in government and society.

Government by the people can endure only when it is in the hands of godly men and women, of good citizens, of officers and officials who respect the Christian principles upon which all good and sound democracy is laid.

The Church and the State are true partners in democratic living. Over them both Freedom's Holy Light is a welcome and necessary beacon. A representative government in the hands of good officials protects the inalienable right of freedom of worship. And the Church builds in men the character, the moral tone, the spiritual stamina, which make them worthy of being entrusted with a free government of free people.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

America Celebrates A Glorious Fourth

To Americans the Fourth of July should be an occasion for rededication to the spirit that created this nation. Whether it is that is open to some question. Certainly it is not easy to strike so deep a note in a nation of 160,000,000 people with any festival, any celebration.

Who would say that this holiday, formerly the favorite national holiday of the American people, has come close to it in recent years?

The attitude of the American people was different in former years—and the difference is reflected in the casual manner in which this day is referred to compared to the florid forensics of earlier times. The most common appellation is "The Fourth of July." Occasionally it is referred to as "Independence Day."

But in an earlier generation, Americans who were not ashamed to flaunt their love of country and their pride in the rising young republic, laced their name for it with rapture. For them it was "The Glorious Fourth."

Why glorious? The answer is clear: The Fourth of July was sacred to the freedom won with the blood of patriots in the War of the Revolution. It stood for the steady wisdom of statesmen, the unbounded courage of soldiers, the endless sacrifices of plain men and women. It stood for the triumph of the ideals set forth in ringing terms in the Declaration of Independence.

Americans still hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are born free and equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these rights are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, and that to insure these rights governments were instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. . . . But we have lost something of the almost ecstatic faith that was once American.

That is a good thing for Americans to think about on Fourth of July 1954. True, our ideals have been perverted in many countries and used to enslave men instead of make them free. But the passionate conviction of the dignity of man and his right to liberty is still alive. The most powerful despotism in history cannot stop it. If Americans hold true to that faith and the cause of freedom this too will be a Glorious Fourth.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Day Not To Forget

I listen for days to the warnings over the radio that this year there will be more accidents on the road on the Fourth of July. The public is warned to be careful. The life that is lost may be your own.

What has this Fourth of July become? Is it a lost weekend? Is it a day for chasing from nowhere to nowhere? Is it a pagan summer festival?

Listen my children and you shall hear of a wondrous story of a brave people, the first colonials to declare their independence from their mother country and to tell the world why. That is why the Fourth of July is celebrated. It was celebrated before anyone ever thought of an automobile; it was celebrated before there was a good road in this country, before there were any state-designated picnic areas to litter with paper and cartons and all the debris of a good time, including broken bottles.

Yes, it was celebrated as a holy birthday, as the day on which a new nation was conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. For it was on this hot day in July, in the city of Philadelphia, dedicated to peace, that a small group of brave men met to issue a proclamation, written principally by Thomas Jefferson of Virginia, philosopher, engineer, statesman, one day to become President of the United States.

It was a most unusual document, for whereas when revolutions are announced, the revolutionists denounce those in power and promise the masses land, food, wealth—whatever it is that men crave—Jefferson set forth a philosophy of politics and of life as the reason for Revolution.

I write this in the town of Sandisfield in Massachusetts on a farm that borders on the trail that "Gentleman" Johnny Burgoyne took when he fought Indians; it is on the road where General Henry Knox cut through the forest as he brought the artillery from Ticonderoga to Cambridge; it is a few miles from King Philip's encampment where he laid siege to the settlers in Hartford and Springfield; it is a few miles from where Shay's Rebellion took place on the eve of Washington's administration.

It is a good place to sit and think about the Fourth of July, of the birth of a nation and of the wondrous preamble which every child of my generation was required to memorize until it remained in the mind like something living that moved and demanded notice. "When in the course of human events . . ."

Yes, my children, you are told that to memorize is unnecessary, that you need only to know about things and to understand them. But in 1917, I was in Petrograd on that October day when early in the morning the sailors came up the Neva, firing their guns and proclaiming a new day. They would give the peasants and workers land, peace and bread.

"When in the course of human events . . ." shouted at me in Jefferson's words:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness . . ."

There was no mob. There was no crowd. There were no great cheering caques. There was a small committee of five men. Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and R. R. Livingston who were appointed to draft a declaration of independence for the 13 colonies who wished to be free. This the delegates adopted on July 4 and to it all the distinguished signatories pledged with "firm reliance on the protection of Divine providence," their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

And these words we should on this day each year repeat as a prayer to God that we should never be tempted to forget our beloved country and what we owe to it.

Uneasiness Increases Over Red China-France Parleys

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Uneasiness over what's going on in Indochina seems to be increasing as suspicions are voiced that maybe there is a deal on between France and Red China concerning the evacuation of certain areas in Southeast Asia. Also rather vehement speeches have just been made by Senator Knowland of California, Republican majority leader, and by Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, Democrat, denouncing any idea of admission of Red China into the U. N., which they suspect may be part of a deal involving French support for that step in exchange for better terms for France in Indochina.

Both hypotheses are declared by French officials here in Washington to be baseless. As one of them explained it, why would any French general withdraw his troops before an armistice is signed, especially when negotiations at Geneva between the military men and the diplomats have by no means been concluded? It was stated that obviously the withdrawal from certain parts of the rich delta area by the French is a strategic retreat and means only that a narrower perimeter will be established that can be more readily defended hereafter.

May Present Complications

The situation is by no means stabilized. On the contrary, it presents possible complications for the United States and Great Britain. For, if the French find themselves unable to defend the area to which they have retreated and if they feel compelled later to accept adverse terms in an armistice, the Paris government undoubtedly will once more ask for American and British military aid before resigning itself to the acceptance of the Communist proposals. In other words, America and Britain may have to share in part the blame for the debacle.

There is some dispute as to what really happened in recent months between the United States and France with reference to official discussion of military intervention. The State Department's version is that the French government never formally asked for aid and that the United States outlined the conditions for such aid which, in effect, called for an internationalizing of the war in Indochina and for a vote of confirmation by the French parliament as well as written requests by the governments involved that America come in.

The French version is that no government can ask formally for aid or promise an action by parliament, that the meaning of the French diplomats who presented the matter informally was unmistakably clear and that the conditions set forth by the United States were unacceptable. Some day when a "white paper" is issued on the subject, it will be interesting to examine the documents on both sides and see what led to the misunderstandings.

As for the military withdrawal, this, it is authoritatively declared by French spokesmen, was decided upon several weeks ago when General Ely flew to Indochina on a special mission and that what's happening now is a consummation of the program adopted by the Laniel-Bidault government in Paris in May.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

This is our feet-on-the-handlebars holiday. Once again we fight for liberty on the picnic grounds of America.

We are proud of the chicken salad and hardboiled egg bivouacs on the frontiers of the suburban developments. Never before have so many done so much to so many.

We are not riding herd on your patriotic outbursts of over-eating at the picnic grounds. We are concerned with your method of getting there.

Our advice to star-spangled drivers is to remember you have your family with you. Or won't they let you forget it?

If you drive fast you get your hood accordion-pleated. If you drive slow you get your trunk-rack folded up. If you swerve your fenders are cauliflowered. If you stand still the traffic piles up and you get free lessons in ancestor worship.

Don't use too much horn in the jams, keep your foot off the gas and confine your arm signals to a combination candy-pull and yo-yo contest.

Don't get shaking your fist and hollering vital statistics at the driver in front. Remember it might be a holiday for him too.

The Constitution guarantees you life, liberty and pursuit by traffic cops. Don't wrap your picnic lunch up in it.

This advice is prepaid and tax-free. In case you lock bumpers with the car in front he has the courtesy of the road. From then on your arm signals don't count.

America has the finest roads in the world. Stay on them. America has the best hospitals in the world. Stay out of them.

GOP Committee Gets Wires Crossed On Two Commission Appointments

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Juiciest nestling place in the federal government is generally considered the International Joint Commission which handles waterway problems between Canada and the United States; also the International Boundary Commission between Canada and the United States.

Duties are not arduous, the boundary isn't bothered by wars, members of the commissions draw $10,000 a year, and get a cool, expense-paid summer trip to Canada every year.

However, the Republican National Committee, eying these job plums, got its political wires so badly crossed that a Chicago lawyer was appointed to the wrong commission, then the governor of Idaho was named prematurely to the job the lawyer was supposed to get.

The resulting mixup violated: 1, a 1909 treaty with Canada; 2, a presidential order dating back to 1873.

It all began when Republican mouths started watering for the patronage plum held by octogenarian A. O. Stanley, ex-senator from Kentucky, who was chairman of the International Joint Commission for the past 20 years.

Illinois' curly-haired Sen. Everett Dirksen, a backstage power at the GOP National Committee, proposed Chicago Lawyer Samuel Golan for the post.

At this point, the committee got its first wire crossed and sent Golan's name to the White House to be named, not to the International Joint Commission, but the International Boundary Commission. This is a different commission altogether, having to do, not with Canadian-U. S. rivers and waterways, but marking and maintaining the Canadian-U. S. boundary.

Not only did the GOP committee pick the wrong commission, but there was no vacancy. Furthermore, a 1909 treaty with Canada specified that the post must go to a qualified engineer. A Chicago lawyer wouldn't do.

Buffalo Backfires

The White House solved the first problem by firing Chairman John Ulinski and creating a vacancy. Ulinski promptly went home to Buffalo, N. Y., took over Democrat Steven Pankow's campaign for mayor and roundly defeated the Republican candidate.

Meanwhile, the White House simply ignored the 1909 treaty and appointed Lawyer Golan to fill the engineering post—regardless of the treaty. All this meanwhile upset New York GOP politicians who had their eye on Ulinski's job on the Boundary Commission, until Golan of Chicago slid into it by mistake.

By this time, old Senator Stanley was forewarned that the Republicans were after his job on the Joint Commission. Snorting defiance, he drew up a legal brief, claiming he couldn't be fired from this quasi-judicial post.

Undismayed, a host of candidates, including former Sens. Owen Brewster of Maine and Ray Willis of Indiana, were running hard for the job. The one who came out on top was Idaho's Gov. Len Jordan.

Under Idaho law, Jordan couldn't succeed himself as governor and was casting about for a new job. There was always the risk that he might try for the Senate, challenging Sen. Henry Dworshak in the GOP primary.

This spurred Dworshak into hustling up another job for the governor and the Joint Commission chairmanship looked promising. To make it even more attractive, the White House upped the pay from $10,600, which the Democrats had paid, to $13,500.

After considerable backstage wire-tugging, Governor Jordan won the appointment last week. He was told that he could finish his term as governor and hold down the Joint Commission chairmanship at the same time.

Then somebody brought up the 1873 order, which prohibits a federal official from holding a state position simultaneously. Since President Grant had signed the original order, it was argued, there was no reason why President Eisenhower couldn't revoke it.

It was pointed out, however, that Ike's own Treasury Department had cited this same 1873 order recently to deny a customs collector appointment to Herman Grannis — on the grounds he was serving as an unpaid member of the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

The White House finally got around its embarrassment by removing Governor Jordan from the Joint Commission 24 hours after he was installed and holding the post open for him for another six months until his term as governor expires.

NOTE — Meanwhile, the 1909 treaty with Canada continues to be violated by the continued appointment of Lawyer Golan on the International Boundary Commission. Junior Miss of Congress

One of the youngest persons ever to occupy a seat in Congress sat beside her grandmother on the floor of the House of Representatives the other day. She was Miss Judy Harden, aged eight, granddaughter of the pleasant congresswoman from Indiana, Mrs. Cecil Harden.

Judy, a refreshing sight in the drab halls of Congress, followed the congressional debate with interest, though she did wipe the sleep out of her eyes during an old-fashioned harangue by orator Martin Dies of Texas.

Lines On A Vacation

By Brother Barnabas

I'm bin a-visitin' 'bout a week To my little cousin's at Nameless Creek;

An I'm got the hives an' a new straw hat.

An' I'm come back home where my beau lives at.

So wrote the Hoosier poet about a vacation who had just returned from a vacation in the country.

Young or old, everybody should now and then have a vacation, if only for a brief time, to add new zest to life.

Those who have plenty to do nothing with will need a change to escape boredom. If it be nothing more than returning from Florida once a year to clip coupons and have oneself elected president of the bank.

Social workers recognize the importance of providing a sojourn in the country for children in the cities who have never known anything but cobblestone pavements and slum life.

Church and Scout leaders gather boys and girls in their respective camps for a week or more where they live democratically and are furthered on their way to good citizenship.

They come home with "the hives and a new straw hat" forsooth, but unconsciously changed for the better.

Missed By The Dog

He is a rare avis who can leave every care behind and have peace of mind while he lolls in the shade of the old apple tree, or lures the sportive trout, or goes swimming, boating or birding.

Most of us must learn how to sandwich our rest periods between our business or professional engagements. We can't spare the time, but we must go to New York or Podunk on business. On the trip we meet up with some interesting people and incidents, get the bats out of our belfry and our provincialisms routed by a broadening and enriching view of life, and when we get back home we find that business has gone on as usual and nobody has missed us but the dog.

If you are a doctor you find that your patients have improved during your absence, since most of their ills are imaginary anyhow. If you are a Methodist you were not missed at church, for the preacher didn't expect to see you regularly in your pew except at Christmas and Easter.

The church treasurer would pick up your pledge card and say: "Whose subscription is this? It's a penny. It must be Caesar's."

Arriving home a few mornings ago after 10 days of incommunicado, this traveler found nearly everything in statu quo. The air was cold as some people's religion. I didn't mind that, for the flagman's hospitality kept me warm in his kiosk.

Piety and Patriotism Candidates were still "dancing" like bees. Citizens were still voting and the ballots were still being counted.

The people were, or had been, at prayer—first, that they might not be blown away by the hurricane of a week ago, and secondly, that their horse might win the sweepstakes, thus making their piety perform a patriotic duty in reducing the taxes.

When one travels by train he sees a cross-section of American life. In the dining car a 10-year-old colored boy seated alone at a small table was having difficulty in cutting his meat. The steward took over and helped him out. I commended him for his kindness. Said he, "We always try to help people." A good omen.

A wholesome, 15-year-old lad sat across the table from me at breakfast. He was one of a personally conducted tour of a dozen or more laddies who were on their way from their homes in Connecticut to a dude ranch in Montana. He agreed that the fine art of riding a pony was shown when the rider is able to pick himself up when thrown off and continue the ride without injury. A good philosophy for all of us.

A platoon of bright-eyed white-uniformed young Americans on their way to Minneapolis to become coastguards.

Paint A Preservative Your columnist had an assignment as toastmaster at a banquet attended by 146 retired ministers and widows of ministers, with the bishop and eight district superintendents and their wives as special guests. The average age of the women was greater than of the men, the reason being, it is said, paint is a preservative.

The opening of one's mail on his return is sometimes an enlivening experience. Here is the announcement of the birth of "Richard Leroy" out in Nebraska on June 12. Four days later his father files for prosecuting attorney. "Economic stabilization."

Next is "An Intimate History" of one's alma mater — a memorial volume filled with sketches of the boys and girls of our callow youth who have since made good in the walks of life, nostalgic memories of our favorite teachers who patiently helped us scale the heights of Parnassus.

Amidst all the inferno of the blast furnaces, the rat-a-tat-tat of the steam hammers, the upheaval of the bulldozers that constantly agitate our nerves, there are two things to remember, principally—first, to return all borrowed books to the Cumberland Free Public Library and be forgiven for the neglect, and the other, to remember that tomorrow is our nation's 178th birthday, and it is to our nation "under God" that we owe our freedom to work, to pray, to play and to have vacations.

Recuperatively yours, BROTHER BARNABAS

Gargles And Lozenges In Treatment Of Sore Throat

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Gargles and lozenges are not as effective in the treatment of sore throat as many individuals have been led to believe. This may come as a disappointment to those who have used them for years and are convinced of their value.

It is easy to determine whether a gargle reaches every part of the mouth, tonsils, and throat by incorporating into the solution a non-poisonous dye such as methylene blue. When the throat is examined after the solution is gargled, the inside of the mouth and tongue are dyed blue but the tonsils and throat show little of the coloring.

The reason, according to Dr. Noah D. Fabricant, is that in the process of gargling, the tongue presses up against the soft palate to prevent fluids from entering the voice box. It is conceivable, however, that when the head is held back more of the gargle seeps toward the throat, but not enough to accomplish its purpose.

The same can be said of lozenges and troches. When a dye is incorporated into these products, the tonsils and tongue are stained but not the back of the mouth. The reason is simple: the lozenge or troche is dissolved by the saliva and slips down the back of the tongue without touching the back part of the throat. Exceptions occur because the direction of salivary flow varies with the individual.

On the other hand, when the person lies flat on his back and sucks a lozenge or pastil, more of the dye reaches the back of the throat because the pattern of the salivary flow is altered by gravity. The stain is heavier in the tonsil area, however, than in the throat. The same holds true when dyes are incorporated into a gelatine base and chewed like candy. Little reaches the pharynx because the flow of saliva takes the shortest route on its way to the stomach.

Experiments of this nature have convinced many physicians that the soothing effects of gargles or lozenges are psychological, or stem from the pleasant taste. Furthermore, even though antiseptic solutions reach the back of the throat, they are diluted quickly by the constant flow of mucus from the nose and sinuses. This applies not only to the lozenges and gargles of a decade ago but to the more modern products containing antibiotics.

But this is not all. Most antiseptic solutions that effect surface germs do not touch those entrenched in the deeper tissues. It is for this reason that penicillin and other antibiotics are more effective when injected or swallowed. From these routes they ultimately reach the diseased tissues through the blood

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In New York there is an old German restaurant named Luchow's which grows more popular, it seems, as time goes on. Broadway and Hollywood celebrities flock there in particular on Sunday nights. One promising starlet was making her first appearance in the Big Town and her publicity-conscious agent said, "The place in which you'll attract the most attention tonight is Luchow's." "That suits me fine," enthused the starlet. "I haven't been to an honest-to-goodness Chinese eatery in heaven knows when!"

On one of those kiddies' TV quizzes, a precocious lad was asked to define "forefathers." His answer: Fathers with four heads! On another program a 7-year-old girl (city bred) boasted that on her vacation she had gotten round to milking a cow. "Did you enjoy the experience?" asked the master of ceremonies. "Oh, yes," said the little girl, "but I didn't get much milk out of it."

John Nick, Sun Brandy, Crank Handle Repeat At Fairgo

King's Lane Wins Seventh, Pays $30.80

Disqualification Mars 3rd; $168,950 Is Bet; Meet Winds Up Today

John Nick, Sun Brandy and Crank Handle joined the parade of two-time winners at Fairgo yesterday as a gathering of 6,000 sweltering persons took in the Fraternity Day program at the local half miller.

The featured sixth, The Fraternity Day, went to John Nick, a three-year-old gelding, who under the guidance of W. Liddle, whipped St. Isidore by 1½ lengths and returned $7.00 for $2. John Nick had scored here on the second day of the meeting, returning a $33.00 mutual.

Sun Brandy, winner of the fifth race on Wednesday, repeated in yesterday's fifth, scoring by a photo over Doctor's Fancy, the top choice of the betters. Lamar Bauer had a leg up on the three-year-old owner by J. Nechamkin and trained by Howard L. Townsley. In two days Sun Brandy's price dropped from $11 to $8.60.

Red Swivel Disqualified

Mrs. C. P. Chenoweth's Crank Handle crashed the winners' circle the second time at this meeting as the result of a disqualification in yesterday's third. Red Swivel raced home ahead of Crank Handle but Jockey Tommy Kane, who rode the latter, filed an objection against A. Monteiro, on Red Swivel, claiming Monteiro failed to give him any room going around the first turn. The stewards upheld Kane's protest and Red Swivel, 14 to 1 shot, was dropped into the second place and Crank Handle, the favorite, declared the winner.

Record Trip, which paid $10.20 to win the first, and Amaru, winner of the second at $13.40, returned $81.40 as the winning daily double combination of 3 and 8.

Double Pool Is Tops

The double pool of $20,768 was the best for nine days of the current session but the mutual handle of $168,950 shrunk below that of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday when wagering exceeded $170,000 each day. For the nine days the betting total hit $1,483,074 or an average of $164,786.

John Nick and Crank Handle were the only favorites to register yesterday. To date only 20 first choices have registered in 72 races for an average of 27.8.

Other good prices were posted yesterday in the fourth event, won by Witchstone which returned $22.20, and in the 7th which saw Mrs. M. G. Heron's King's Lane ($30.80) win by a head over the favored San-Chu.

Captain Arden took the major share of the purse in the eighth and paid $9.80 for $2.

As the meet goes into its final day, William D. Thomas, Bryn Mawr, Pa., paces the trainers with five wins while the jockeys' contest is a free-or-all affair with Willie Clark and Anthony Russo on top with 10 wins each, Mike Sorrentino with nine and Donald Teague with eight. Tommy Kane was the only rider to chalk up a double yesterday. His winning mounts were Amaru and Crank Handle.

White Heads Card

Today's "Getaway Day" program is headed by the Clifton W. White Memorial, sixth event on the program. Mr. White, who died this year, served as president and general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association from 1942 to 1949. The White trophy goes to the owner of the winning horse in the featured event. The trophy has been in competition since 1944 and has been shared by nine different owners. Many Gifts, owned by Ed Samaha, was the 1953 winner. John Foster, owner of Cushman, winner in 1944 and 1945, is the only owner to hold two legs on the trophy.

Orioles Win, 2-0

BALTIMORE July 2 (AP)—Joe Coleman fashioned a three-hit shutout for his ninth victory of the season tonight as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers, 2-0.

The triumph was Coleman's second shutout of the year. The husky, right-handed comeback sensation bested the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-0, on May 11. It was the A's who last winter gave up on him, believing him to be a chronic sore-armed hurler.

Coleman struck out seven and issued only two bases on balls, one intentionally. He has lost six.

THE LADY WILL TRY AGAIN—Nimble Lady, 3-year-old bay filly, owned by Mrs. E. Snyder, was upset by Say in the Dapper Dan Purse on Tuesday but will try again to crash the winners' circle in the Clifton W. White Memorial, sixth event on the Getaway Day card at Fairgo this afternoon. Nimble Lady is shown in the above photo with her trainer, J. M. P. Bell. The daughter of Quarter Moon ran in the Black Eyed Susan Stake at Pimlico. With a "tightener" under her belt, the light-weighted filly, 106 pounds, may be the horse to beat today in the race named in memory of the former president and general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association.

Packets Will Finish Season In Piedmont

Raney Will Remain As Hagerstown Head

STAUNTON, Va., July 2 (AP)—Piedmont League President Frank L. Summers said tonight officials of the Hagerstown baseball club have notified him the team will finish out the Piedmont season under the same management.

Earlier today, Summers had announced the intention of Eugene Lou K. Crist, principal owner of the Packets, to end his association with the team on July 16.

The Piedmont president said he was notified late this afternoon by Raney a critical situation at Hagerstown occasioned by poor attendance was "all cleared up" and the club was ready to operate the rest of the campaign.

There will be no change in the team ownership, Summers said.

Rufus Edwards is business manager of the team, which after a spurt in May which carried the Packets into contention for the lead, has floundered and now occupies the Piedmont cellar.

This morning, Summers announced Raney had notified him that interest in the club has "diminished to practically nothing" because of its losing habits and because certain players had been released by Washington, with whom the Packets have a working agreement.

Raney at that time said he intended to offer the franchise to local interests but, if he found no buyers, would make moves to transfer it to some other locality.

Hagerstown is the third Piedmont city to run into financial troubles this summer. Earlier Lynchburg and Portsmouth had been on the verge of quitting the league because of low attendance, but both remained in the circuit.

Chet Nichols, who gave up all the Cincinnati runs before leaving for a pinchhitter in the seventh, was the winner, and Corky Valentine, the Redlegs' starter, the loser.

Amaru, staid while moving outside on the lower turn, forced to the front gradually on the far turn and then drew away when ridden out to the finish. China Man, in the thick of contention between horses throughout, finished willingly in a good effort. Feudin' Fightin' drew wide for the first turn and weakened slightly. Timetodust never entered serious contention. Midnite Moon quickly dropped out of contention and showed nothing. The others showed nothing.

WINNER—Owned by Mrs. C. P. Chenoweth, trained by C. P. Chenoweth.
R. Swivel, hard ridden to wrest command from the outside after the first turn, cut to the rail when clear and held away along the inside to the end. He was disqualified for impeding Crack Hand and placed second. Crack Hand, staid along the inside early, was squeezed back on the lower turn, took to the outside and moved up boldly but had to be carefully ridden in the late stages while trying to lung. China Man's claim of foul was allowed and Crack Hand awarded first position. Crack Hand was off very slowly, rushed boldly through horses to enter contention then was in close during the drive as Crack Hand was lunging in. Chance Lead was very sluggish and rallied too late. Codac could not keep up. New Khayyam tired. Mr. Deep flattered out badly in the final furlong.

WINNER—Owned by J. McCormick, trained by H. F. Atwell.
Whetstone wisely took to the inside while making his bid at the head of the stretch and wore down Caterwaul in the drive. The latter rather raked early, showed good speed to wrest command on the turn then shortened stride and tired in the last furlong. Busy Ambie, who was carried wide, was in the thick of contention between horses throughout, finished willingly in a good effort. Bandaid was off very slowly, rushed boldly through horses to enter contention then was in close during the drive as Crack Hand was lunging in. Chance Lead was very sluggish and rallied too late. Seashell could not keep up. New Khayyam tired. Mr. Deep flattered out badly in the final furlong.

WINNER—Owned by J. Nechamkin, trained by H. L. Townsley.
Sun Brady duelled with Doctor's Fancy the entire running and outfinished that one after a bitter struggle. Doctor's Fancy tried to short leg late in the stretch but failed to gain in the drive. Crack Hand, taken to the rail lacked the necessary qualities when asked to best effort. Quarter Grand tired. The others were never in contention.

WINNER—Owned by Mrs. M. Hopkins, trained by W. B. Pugh.
John Nick sneaked through along the inside after a half, quickly drew out, then held St. Isidore safe when roused in the drive. The latter went very wide on the first turn, gradually picked up his stride and pressed to the front. St. Isidore, who was carried wide, failed to menace. Kings Bonnie faltered badly after gaining a short lead on the far side. Bottle Fatigue flattered out after setting the pace under urging. Mr. Darling quit.

WINNER—Owned by Mrs. M. G. Heron, trained by M. G. Heron.
Kings Lane, unable to keep up early, recovered after being carried very wide on the turn and was going away at the finish. San-Chu, squeezed back at the start, rushed up to put Navy Flash away on the backstretch then came very wide on the final turn losing the lead and the race. Little Fling was left with a fine opportunity as the leaders raced side by side but was not strong enough. Penny Archer also failed to rally along the inside. Navy Flash shortened stride after showing good speed for a half.

WINNER—Owned by J. M. Davis, trained by L. McDonald.
Crack Hand, well ridden, put Renounce away when ready, drew out when roused and lasted gamely under brisk riding in the late stages. Winged Nymph staid while moving outside on the lower turn, forced to the front gradually on the backstretch, was slow to respond on the backstretch, but closed very fast in the stretch and was getting to the winner. Croton Boy worked his way forward on the outside, lost ground on the final turn but closed determinedly. Renounce faltered when displaced. The others were never dangerous.

Turnpike Crash Injures Two

Two men were badly injured Thursday night near Midway on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Bedford when the car in which they were riding ran into the rear of a moving tractor-trailer.

Another sailor riding with Moore, James Shipley, 20, of Ashland, Ky., was not injured.

State Police at Bedford said Moore apparently fell asleep while driving.

Hagerstown Youth Commits Suicide

Ralph Eugene Kershner, 17-year-old Hagerstown youth, whose body was found in the rear of a residence in that community Wednesday afternoon, committed suicide, according to police.

Investigating officers, who have not yet marked the case closed, said the boy, whose face was partially blown off with a 16-gauge shotgun blast, died on Saturday or Sunday.

An employee of Brandt Cabinet Works, Kershner was involved in a shooting fracas which occurred sometime over the weekend, in which a friend was slightly injured in the leg by shot shell.

The police came to a conclusion that there is little doubt but that the case was a suicide.

Besides his parents, Max C. and Mary (Fryer) Kershner, he is survived by a brother, Earl, of Cumberland.

Bloodmobile Due Here Next Week

The mobile unit of the Johns-town Red Cross Regional Headquarters will make only one stop in Allegany County this month, and that appearance will be here.

The unit will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, Tuesday from noon to 6 p. m. Red Cross officials today asked as many persons as possible to keep their appointments, citing the fact that the 150-pint quota was not met here last month.

There were 140½ pints processed at the Eagles Home in June and only an oversubscription by donors of the Frostburg area kept the Allegany County in being maintained. There were 163 pints collected at the Frostburg visit, for a total county donation of 303½ pints.

Officials stressed that "walk-ins" will be processed at any time at their convenience between the designated hours.

Wills Probated In Orphans Court

The will of Albert L. Weber, 72, president and one of the founders of the South Cumberland Planning Mill and also a director of the Cumberland Savings Bank, who died June 19 in Memorial Hospital, was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court.

A daughter, Cathern A. Weber Ryan, 504 Oldtown Road, was named executrix of the document. The will provides that three daughters, Mrs. Ruth W. Hoyle, Mrs. Grace W. Stafford and Mrs. Cathern A. Weber Ryan, and their husbands receive half-interests in residence properties in which they previously had received half-interests by deed.

The three daughters will receive the common stock owned by the deceased in the South Cumberland Planning Mill firm. The balance of the estate also goes to the daughters.

The will of Rebecca Grace Alderton, 54 Marion Street, who died recently, was also admitted to probate.

A niece, Helen Walters, was named executrix of the estate. The estate was bequeathed to Lavinia May Davidson, a sister, and Carol Ann and Mary Katherine Newnam, granddaughters.

The more good books you read, the more you're sure to enjoy your leisure reading time

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

One of the Powers Girls told me this morning that, as a child, she enjoyed summer most of all because of the library program in her town. That seemed an odd reason for liking an outdoors season when most youngsters are engaged in decidedly more active exercise, so I questioned Polly Barnes further.

Here is the explanation Polly gave, and I think it will amuse you: "Our library had a reading club, and for every book I read the librarian would put a little gold star on my card. It sounds silly now, I guess, but I was always proud of having more stars at the end of the summer than anyone else in town!"

Polly and I both laughed, then, and she went on: "You know, Mr. Powers, there was more to it than the gold stars, although I didn't realize that until years later . . . I read a lot of good books during those summers that I might never have otherwise . . . and I ought to set an ambitious reading program for myself again."

Fine Idea

With this idea, I agree. Most of us are lazy in our reading habits. We read Dickens and Thackeray and the Greek classics, and learned the Declaration of Independence by heart when in school, but we seldom re-read the greats of literature, or books of similar content, without assignment. We're simply content with popular current novels.

Probably everyone has plans for the long Fourth of July weekend that involve picnics and other festivities; but if you don't, why not dust off one or two of the classics for some solid reading? Or make out a list of the books you've always "intended" to read, for later reference.

Plan, when cooler days come around, to join a book discussion club, to read the same assignments your children are studying in their English and literature classes, or

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

SRC Asks City To Take Action On Traffic Plan

Mayor And Council To Discuss Program

One of the first subjects which will be discussed by the Mayor and Council following their installation Tuesday morning will be the Cumberland Overhead Expressway traffic program.

The Maryland State Roads Commission has asked the city to make an early decision on the plan — which has been included in the SRC's 12-year road construction program—so the city can take advantage of Federal Urban Aid funds available this year.

A copy of the SRC's proposed agreement with the city in the traffic plan has been received by city officials.

Conferences Needed

Mayor Roy W. Eves said the city has informed Russell H. McCain, SRC chairman, that no commitments would be made by the city before the Mayor and Council confer with SRC officials on exact details of the program, and the cost to the city.

The SRC has indicated such conferences will be held in order to work out adjustments which would make the program suited to local requirements.

Informed sources said the State Roads Commission will assume the full financial responsibility for the construction of the facility, estimated to cost about $10,000,000. The SRC is also said to be planning to acquire the rights of way, with any city-owned property needed considered part of the city contribution.

The commission is insisting that the plan be considered in its entirety, and not as separate projects such as the cross-town bridge, the West Side expressway and the South End boulevard.

Cite City's Past

The city, it is reported, would be expected to assume the cost of relocation or installation of utilities involved, assume the cost of installing automatic signals on Henderson Avenue, adjust Baltimore Street traffic lights to allow progressive movement of traffic and provide for left hand turns.

Cumberland would also be expected to prohibit parking on Centre and Mechanic Streets, between Baltimore and Williams Street, and to install and maintain lights needed on the roads. It will also be asked to take over the maintenance of Henderson Avenue, but would receive additional motor vehicle revenues to maintain the route.

Federal Aid Available

The SRC pointed out that the city will have available, from 1952 to 1960, about $485,000 of matchable funds from the Federal Urban Aid program.

Full details of the estimated cost of the project to the city are expected here soon, and will undoubtedly have a bearing on any city decision, due to city financial commitments on such projects as flood protection.

SRC spokesmen have pointed out in recent correspondence that it has tried for a number of years to develop a plan which would handle through traffic, and at the same time alleviate Cumberland's traffic conditions.

They said the project, as proposed, will provide relief for existing downtown congestion as well as providing through travel routes for all major highways entering the city.

The SRC says the proposed route will accomplish the task at a minimum cost and with the least disruption to buildings and property.

It said substantial parts of the contracts have been set up for engineering development and actual construction in the 1954 program.

Some city officials point out that the cross-town traffic plan was worked out by the State Roads Commission as a result of the 1949-50 traffic study.

Strengthening Of Railway Bridge Piers Underway

River Flow Change Results In Action

The E. J. Albrecht Company has begun emergency strengthening of two piers of the Western Maryland Railway bridge across the Potomac River below the recently constructed dam on the West Side.

When the old dam at the junction of the Potomac River and Wills Creek was breached during the building of the new structure the flow of water at the base of the Western Maryland bridge piers was changed, flood engineers said.

Because of the change in the flow of the water the two piers will be strengthened. Heavy equipment already has begun digging out a coffer dam to back the water from the pier structures. Steel sheeting will then be placed around the piers about a foot or so from the present structures. Concrete will be poured between the piers and the enclosing steel sheeting to build the abutments.

Engineers said the railway bridge is not endangered but that the work is being done to form a protective structure around the piers.

Meanwhile the Wright Contracting Company of Columbus, Ga., has finished excavation work at the end of Beal Street beside the Loyd Order of Moose Home.

The excavation will form the base of one end of the West Side flood wall when concrete is poured in the next few weeks.

Meanwhile the company will place rip rap along the river bank at the bend in the river behind Aviret Avenue and Smallwood Street in preparation for the concrete work.

A field office for the resident engineer has been erected along Kelly Boulevard next to the foundation for the concrete batching plant which will be built in the next few days.

Testing instruments and other materials will be kept in the field office when actual concrete work begins.

Flood officials said last night the $500,000 appropriated in a measure signed Wednesday by President Eisenhower for the local project will be used mostly for future contracts.

State Police Plan Patrol Over Holiday

Troopers Leaves Are Cancelled

Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks will join with troopers from all over the state in a highway patrol operation and attempt at cutting down the expected holiday traffic toll.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander at LaVale, last night said all leaves at the local barracks have been cancelled as of 6 p. m. yesterday and will be effective until 2 a. m. Tuesday.

Showing up for duty yesterday at 5 p. m. at Pikesville were specialists from the traffic records division, the motor vehicle maintenance department and other sections not ordinarily connected with patrol work.

Maj. William H. Weber, field force commander, said the all-out patrol would continue until 2 a. m. Tuesday.

"All normal functions of the department, other than patrol work, have been suspended," Weber said. He estimated there would be about 40 more patrolmen than usual on the highways over the weekend.

Weber issued a plea to Maryland motorists to ease up on the accelerator in their holiday driving and to exercise the utmost caution on the highways.

State Police Superintendent Elmer F. Munshower called for co-operation from drivers to make the coming weekend "the safest on record."

He also reminded the public that because every available man is scheduled for patrol duty, administrative functions will be at a minimum and calls for information may not be processed.

The Fourth of July fell on a Saturday last year. Over the 4th and 5th, there were 194 highway accidents in Maryland with five killed and 94 injured.

On Monday, July 6th, last year, there were 75 accidents with 29 injured.
